Lois Butlin

During her acting career Lois Butlin has played many leading roles in repertory theatres, on tour and at the Old Vic in London. These included Lady Teazle (School for Scandal). Sheila (Day in the Death of Joe Egg), Celimene (Misanthrope), Beatrice (Much Ado about Nothing) Dr Scott (Whose Life is it Anyway) Nerissa (Merchant of Venice), Imogen Parrott (Trewlawny of the Wells) and Joanna (Present Laughter). She also worked in television including The Collectors, Me and My Girl, Grange Hill and Radio (A Dry White Season). Lois is a Trustee and Listening Volunteer of the Central London Samaritans.

We are pleased to contribute £3 from each programme sold in aid of Central London Samaritans. Founded in 1953 by Reverend Chad Varah, today Central London Samaritans is the only support service in London open round the clock, every day of the year. Every year they receive over 100,000 calls for help. People call them to be heard, to work through their problems and find positive outcomes that work for them. Volunteers also reach out and work with schools, colleges and universities, workplaces, health and welfare services, homeless people, prisons and other charities. Central London Samaritans is a charity registered in England and Wales no. 268293
